Definition clarification	Under section 30702, how do you define "suitable means" for controlling excessive dust? Due to the significant rise in asthma, is a cover of bark chips acceptable, rather than just wetting it to control dust?	"Suitable means" include methods that are appropriate for the purpose and the site.	2008	FAQ's CCR 30702
Clarification of responsibility: Submission of 30 day notice of intent to operate	Related to section 30703, who is responsible to submit the 30 day notice of intent to operate – the site operator or the user group/lessee?	The site operator is always responsible for submitting the 30-day notice of intent to operate to the local health officer. The only exception is when the user group or lessee has already submitted the notice. If the site operator chooses to delegate the responsibility to the user group or lessee, the site operator must ensure the user group or lessee has submitted the notice.	2008	FAQ's CCR 30702
Construction plans as it relates to notice of intent to operate	Do building construction plans related to 30703(b) have to be approved by the local health agency?	The local health agency can delegate the responsibility to review and approve building and construction plans to the local building official. The local health agency should conduct a follow-up inspection after, or in conjunction with, the building final inspection.	2008	FAQ's CCR 30702(b)
Submission of written operating procedures	In section 30704, what does "submit to the local health officer" mean related to the written operating procedures?	"Submit to the local health officer" is generally assumed to mean the health officer will view the procedures at the camp as part of the camp inspection, unless there has been a change in the ownership or the health officer asks you to send them in advance.	2008	FAQ's CCR 30704
New camps and non-ACA-accredited camp requirements	For new, non-ACA-accredited camps, what is the requirement for section 30704?	If it is the camp's first year of operation and the camp is not ACA-accredited, the camp must provide written operating procedures as described in $\underline{30704(b)(1)}$ .	2008	FAQ's CCR 30704(b)(1)
Examples of organized and supervised activities that require written operating procedures	Explain or define "the program of organized and supervised activities" that require written operating procedures under section 30704(b)(1)	A camp's program typically includes organized and supervised activities that provide creative, recreational, and educational opportunities. The purpose of requiring written operating procedures for program activities is to ensure the safety and health of campers. Examples of program activities that require written operating procedures include activities that require supervision by a skilled person, such as archery, bicycles, all-terrain vehicles, go karts, gymnastics, power tools, model rocketry, lacrosse, and shooting sports. Other examples are activities that involve camper use of fire or heat-producing equipment, such as building fires or using wood burning tools	2008	FAQ's 30704(b)(1) or kilns. Activities that require injury-protection equipment, such as helmets, goggles, or padding, also require written procedures.
